4/ Well, now, don't feel you have it all to do, as a way is always made for God's children - if not through one channel, another is opened.

Thurs. Dec. 27. Ronnie's cute T. Jo. came to-day. I guess he really liked his candy belt - but, Dorothy & I were delighted over his sleeping garments! They fit perfectly - only a bit long, which is an excellent fault this time of the year. May God bless you!

Our revival still in progress. God has given us an excellent evangelist. Will you could "listen-in" on his wonderful message. We all need more of the Word.

Do trust Harold won't be sent <sup>out</sup> of W.S.A. There is enough uncertainty here, but it is multiplied outside our borders. Now I long for Jesus to come & "catch His bride away." May God keep His hand on the bride! I wish I knew that they were back really saved & ready for the Lord's return. I can't bear anyone I love being lost. We need to be praying much!

Dearest Parents;

Has winter been stealing around the corner out your way? We had a beautiful snow preceded & followed by ~~the~~ rain. Dad had so much moisture the past few days. It had remained dry for so long we just won't allow ourselves to complain.

We did have a lovely Thanksgiving Day. Our people were wonderful to us. One brought two cakes, two quarts of home-canned, sweetened peaches, & a fat hen. Another brought a fruit-cake, 2 pies, 6 pts. of home-canned fruit, jelly, & vegetables, & a squirrel. A new convert brought a most delicious, Delia's, apple-sauce, spice cake. So we had a delicious meal. We are in a revival meeting, so the evangelist's wife made a crisp, vegetable salad, & the dressing for the hen. I made the "dumplings", mashed the potatoes, & cooked fresh greens, & we were "all set"!

Sunday, the 30th, was Ray's 50th birthday. One lady ordered our city baker to deliver a gorgeous birthday cake, with "Happy Birthday "Bis. Subl.", on it & the locket roset & decorations I've ever seen. It was truly pretty. She scolded me for not letting her know about my birthday. One sister brought 2 qu. of fresh, frozen strawberries from her locker & a sack of her home-grown sweet potatoes or yams. A couple from the country brought fresh pork & a dozen eggs & another brought eggs, too.

To-night before service a sister came in with a quart of home-made apple-jelly.
A little before the revival one couple came with a pumpkin & a quart of canned "coo".
She is always bringing a piece of cake, half a pie, a whole pie, or something.

Our evangelist & his wife gave me a lovely birthday greeting & a dollar bill.
So - Dorothy & I shopped! Ray gave me some, also, so I got a very nice slip with my ~~new~~.

Perhaps you feel, by now, your lovely desire to slip into our Seamy home with a beautifully lighted cake & a little paddle would have been superfluous. My be so, but how happy it would have meant to all. My "paddings" are really

3/4 is arrived, so, could that desire would have fitted into the program.

I guess our Rounie boy, in as-much as he has grown so fast, is the main one on the Christmas list. He has outgrown almost all of his clothes.
We found ages - sizes vary amazingly when we shopped for him. In the corduroy overalls, some 3 yrs sizes were too short, others just right, or others too long. You check the clothing if you buy, by laying them on each other. He was only 2 in October but in most cases he takes a 3 & in others he takes a 4 yr. He takes a 6 1/2 sock. He has outgrown under-shirts & needs panties - man style! Dorothy daily looks for some encouragement of support for her babies, but none has come so far.

I hardly knew about Dorothy's needs.
Perhaps anklets, panties, & a nice slip.
My birthday slippers you sent when in Arizona, are nearly gone. Oh, yes, our cozy gowns are down to one each!
